

When the right to broadcast news is couched in partisan views, then the station should be forced to go off the air until the truth about broadcast is known.